

NT Cutter 9mm Snap Cutter

Basic Metallic Screw Lock Precision Knife

S-202P

The NT S-202P 9mm Snap Cutter is a basic stainless steel precision cutter. It's metallic ergonomic, lightweight body is designed for precision cutting and everyday use for professionals and hobbyists who value control, durability, and accuracy. Built for long-lasting performance, the S-202P's has a screw locking mechanism to hold the blade tight and secure and ensures stability and balance during use, while the end cap doubles as a blade snapper. With a high-quality sliding track that ensures smooth blade movement this knife stands out as a reliable tool for craftwork, model making, signage, graphic design and more. This precision-engineered tool is proudly manufactured in Japan and can also be easily disassembled and sorted by material to dispose recyclable material and waste separately.
